What is the future of New Jersey cities?

The New Urban Agenda seeks to set priorities that ensure equitable growth and inclusive redevelopment in New Jersey's urban centers. You are invited to discuss recommendations for New Jersey's leaders. The topics the NUA covers include workforce development, housing, infrastructure, crime prevention, health, and transportation.

What are the most pressing barriers faced by persons with disability?

DRNJ is the state's designated protection and advocacy system for individuals with disabilities in the state of New Jersey. A champion for the rights of individuals with disabilities for over 20 years DRNJ has advanced human and civil rights in the areas of community integration, discrimination, barriers to employment, education and housing.

Discussion will ensure DRNJ's resources address the most critical issues in the coming years.
