Housing Navigation Project

Special Topic: Transportation Transformation

Transportation plays a key role in allowing people with disabilities access to every opportunity in community life. In New Jersey reliable and accessible transportation has long been an obstacle to education, employment, housing and all public engagement. The ARC of Mercer, an expert in understanding the problem and a leader in creating an innovative cost saving solution, joins us to share how their TAT (Total Agency Transportation) approach can be replicated and deployed throughout NJ to overcome this intractable barrier.
